

Abbreviated Curriculum Vitae
George C Roush, MD, MPH, FACE, FACP
January, 2024

Editor of Eyepiece, the Newsletter of AAA (Amateur Astronomers Association of New York)
Board Member of AAA.

Founder, Adventures in Astronomy, Inc, an independent, non-profit, 501©3 organization

References (contact information available on request)

Alfredo Vargus, President of AAA

Bart Fried, Executive Vice President of AAA

Teaching astronomy

Topics in Astronomy, Summer 2022.

Adventures in Astronomy, February thru May, 2023.

Adventures in Astronomy, June thru August, 2023

Planetary Astronomy for the AAA, Fall 2023.

Clinical teaching

Yale University, 1981-1986, graduate students in public health

St. Vincent's Medical Center, 2008-2014, medical residents in training

Woodhull Medical Center, 2018-2019, medical residents in training

Distinguished Medical Educator Award, St. Vincent's Medical Center, 2014

Education

Amherst College, BA, cum laude, 1968

Case Western Reserve University School of Medicine, MD, 1975

Yale University, Masters in Epidemiology and Public Health, 1978

Certifications

American Board of Internal Medicine, 1981

American Board of Preventive Medicine, 1982

Clinical Hypertension, American Society of Hypertension, 2014

Fellow, American College of Epidemiology, 1987

Fellow, American College of Physicians, 2008

Faculty Appointments

Yale University, Department of Public Health, 1984-1987

UCONN School of Medicine, 2006-2019

NYU School of Medicine, 2019-2021

Publications

Fifty-two publications peer reviewed medical journals.

Book publication George C Roush et al. Cancer Risk and Incidence Trends, Harper & Row, 1987